

Sacred Heart Nursing Home, Crosspatrick, celebrates 25th birthday

The Quinn family and residents join celebrations for the nursing home situated on the border of Tipperary, Laois and Kilkenny

Sacred Heart Nursing Home, Crosspatrick, celebrated its 25th birthday last Sunday. It was a wonderful afternoon where friends and neighbours joined the Quinn family, residents and staff to mark the occasion with music, dance and refreshments.

Owner, Seán Quinn, gave a heart warming speech paying tribute to all residents who have lived and live in this family run nursing home. He also praised the staff who care for them so well and with such kindness.

He concluded with a moving tribute and presentation to his wife Theresa highlighting the 35 years' service she has given to Sacred Heart as a residential centre prior to becoming a registered nursing home 25 years ago.

Bouquets were presented to two of the residents, commemorating the many years they have chosen to share with Sacred Heart N.H.; Kitty Kennedy who has lived in Sacred Heart for 19 years and Julieanne Rooney who has been a resident for 10 years.

The 17 year career of chef, Noreen Bergin, was also recognised.

Jim Finn who presents the Saturday morning Ag-report on Tipp FM joined the celebrations and interviewed residents and visitors reminiscing about rural and farming life.

The Quinn family would like to thank all who gathered for this happy celebration despite the heavy snowfall of storm Freya.
